DEPARTMENT OF STATE

To the Citizens of New Hampshire:

The publication of the 2007 Manual for the General Court marks the 60th volume published in odd-numbered years since 1889. It includes general information about state government and the 2006 September state primary and the November general election results.

The November 2006 general election ended with a huge surprise. For the first time since November biennial elections replaced March annual elections in 1878, voters chose a Democrat to hold the office of governor and a majority of Democrats were elected to the executive council, senate, and house of representatives. Both the senate and the house, on organization day, elected women as their presiding officers, Sylvia Larsen of Concord as Senate President and Terie Norelli of Portsmouth as House Speaker.

This edition gives special recognition to Ruth L. Griffin of Portsmouth, the longest serving woman on the Executive Council, having served ten two-year terms.

It also includes highlights of the 100th anniversary celebration of the Portsmouth Peace Treaty and historical information about United States Presidents and Vice Presidents.

Secretary of State

RUTH LEWIN GRIFFIN

Only four women have been elected to serve on the executive council – three democrats and one republican. Dudley Dudley of Durham was elected in 1976 followed by Ruth L. Griffin of Portsmouth in 1986, followed by Debora B. Pignatelli of Nashua in 2004 and Beverly Hollingworth of Hampton in 2006.

Councilor Griffin, did not seek re-election in 2006 after serving twenty years on the executive council, ten years in the house and two in the senate. She was also elected a delegate for two N.H. constitutional conventions and was chosen as a New Hampshire delegate to seven republican national conventions.

At a party just before leaving office state officials and friends honored Ruth's thirty-two years of elected public service. During her farewell remarks she recited a poem by Edgar Guest that contained a message she remembered and followed for many years. The last stanza of the poem follows:

*I never can hide myself from me,
I see what others may never see,
I know what others may never know,
I never can fool myself – and so,
Whatever happens, I want to be Self-respecting and conscience free.*

100th ANNIVERSARY of the PORTSMOUTH PEACE TREATY

In 2005 New Hampshire celebrated the 100th anniversary of the signing of the Portsmouth Peace Treaty, the only treaty ending a war between two major foreign powers signed on American soil. The Russo Japanese War of 1904-1905 was history's first modern war. Several events took place on the seacoast as part of the celebration.

On August 6, 2005 Governor John H. Lynch and Dr. Susan E. Lynch hosted the Governor's dinner at Wentworth By The Sea Hotel to celebrate the centennial of former Governor John McLane's reception welcoming the Japanese and Russian delegation at the same hotel 100 years earlier. The dinner was attended by present and former state officials and local seacoast residents. Former Executive Councilor Malcolm McLane, the grandson of former Governor John McLane, gave remarks at the dinner about his grandfather's role 100 years earlier.

Host Governor Lynch lead a panel discussion of four former New Hampshire Governors — gathering five New Hampshire governors in one place at one time to address "What it means to be from New Hampshire."

Individually and collectively their message focused on the 'common man'—and woman.

Walter Peterson, Governor 1969–1973, spoke of the opportunities New Hampshire has always offered to those who come to the state, saying "New people pay us the very great favor of moving here, and many of them immediately set about to change what's here, providing a necessary creative tension... What we have here is precious and important, a place to preserve and to welcome."

John Sununu, Governor 1983–1989, suggested that New Hampshire's difference lies in the participation of ordinary citizens in their government. Estimating that one in every 1,500 citizens runs for office in the state, he said, "Why is New Hampshire entitled to pick the next President every four years? The answer is what makes the state so different. In no other place in the country, or perhaps the world, is the distance between the ordinary citizen and the government so short. Ordinary people determine the way our communities are governed. Everybody gets involved directly in accepting a share in the responsibility for what goes on in our towns and in the state. That constant involvement by all of us makes New Hampshire special. It's a great place to live, raise a family and do business in. It's also a great state to make peace in."

Stephen Merrill, Governor 1993–1997, recalling his ancestor who arrived in New Hampshire in a wagon from Massachusetts and then walked the 22 miles from Manchester to settle in Concord, said “This is a state where ordinary people get to do extraordinary things.”

Jeanne Shaheen, Governor 1997–2003, noted, “Anyone who has spent time in New Hampshire has an emotional tie to the state...but what I appreciated when I was Governor was the people, and I believe they are what made a difference in getting the Peace Treaty negotiations done.” Noting other firsts, including the first labor strike, organized by the women of Sawyer’s Mills and Marilla Ricker the first woman ever to try to vote in the state, Governor Shaheen said, “It’s been the people — their independence, self-reliance and imagination. It’s all possible in New Hampshire.”

Governor John Lynch said, “1905 was a very special year. On the Centennial, let’s show the country that here in New Hampshire we come together. The quality that makes New Hampshire so special is our commitment to work together as we did 100 years ago.”

Co-Chairmen Portsmouth Peace Treaty Anniversary Committee

The Portsmouth Peace Treaty Anniversary celebration enlightened, entertained and engaged our thinking about how ordinary people can make a difference. In 1905 “an uncommon commitment to peace became a common virtue” as New Hampshire’s seacoast residents helped ensure the Russian and Japanese delegates found an atmosphere conducive to the successful negotiation of a peace treaty to end a major foreign war.

One hundred years later, in 2005, an uncommon commitment on the part of many, many people became a common — but not commonplace! celebration. From the members of the Portsmouth Peace Treaty Anniversary Committee and the organizations they represent, to the 6,000 people who lined the streets for the National Guard welcoming Parade on August 6th, the spirit of the Portsmouth Peace Treaty Centennial became a tangible thing. We organized an event on each day of the thirty days paralleling when the formal delegations were here, from August 6th to September 5th. But we never could have imagined several events taking place at the same time over those thirty days! Nor could we have predicted the imaginative and creative forms those celebrations would take, or the dedication of their creators.

Governor John Lynch traveled from the state capital in Concord to participate in the welcoming parade, in three additional centennial events, and to host two state dinners at Wentworth By The Sea. Following the first dinner, in a letter addressed personally to each of the members of the Portsmouth Peace Treaty Anniversary Committee, he wrote, "As the people of New Hampshire came together in 1905 to set the right tone of peace, so also did we come together 100 years later to celebrate that important event." At the second dinner he said, "In 1905 the people of New Hampshire gathered to set the tone to make peace possible... We can make a difference to the people of New Hampshire and across the world."

As our Centennial Hosts were honored to demonstrate, private citizens led the celebration and continue to hold up the Portsmouth Peace Treaty as an example to the state, the nation and the world of what ordinary citizens can accomplish. They, we, you are the legacy of the Portsmouth Peace Treaty anniversary 2005. The ultimate purpose of the summer's events was to return Portsmouth to the map of peacemakers, to show the way with the school curriculum created by Northeast Cultural Coop and the Portsmouth Public Schools, to establish a permanent Portsmouth Peace Treaty Trail for visitors to explore, to establish a permanent Portsmouth Peace Treaty Memorial and to expand the scholarship with a website recognized by the Library of Congress as an outstanding demonstration of local historical research. PortsmouthPeaceTreaty.com is now positioned as the central source for local, national and international research on the Portsmouth peace process.

In 2006 we celebrated the 100th anniversary of the awarding of the first Nobel Peace Prize to an American President — Theodore Roosevelt — who understood that the process mattered. While he won the Prize for arranging the delicate negotiations that successfully brought a war that threatened to engulf the world to an end, that process was Portsmouth's — the Navy, the Governor, and Seacoast citizens, who did what you've done again in 2005.

The Declaration of Independence is generally regarded as one of the most famous documents in the history of the world. On June 10, 1776, the Continental Congress appointed a committee, consisting of Thomas Jefferson, Benjamin Franklin, John Adams, Roger Sherman and Robert R. Livingston to draft a Declaration of Independence.

Jefferson wrote out a rough draft of the Declaration, which was carefully revised by the committee and presented to Congress for adoption. After some further slight revisions by that body, it was adopted on July 4, 1776, at Philadelphia.

The parchment with the original signatures was deposited with the Department of State when the government was organized in 1789.

The original Declaration of Independence was transferred from the Department of State by direction of the late President Warren G. Harding to the Library of Congress. The Declaration was moved from the Library of Congress in 1952 at the direction of Congress and transferred to the National Archives Building where it rests today.

THE DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE

MADE BY THE ORIGINAL THIRTEEN STATES
IN CONGRESS AT PHILADELPHIA

UNANIMOUSLY ADOPTED JULY 4, 1776

When, in the course of human events, it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume, among the powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the law of nature and of nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation.

We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed, by their Creator, with certain unalienable rights, that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. That to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed, that whenever any form of government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the right of the people to alter or to abolish it, and institute new government, laying its foundation on such principles, and organizing its powers in such form as to them shall seem most likely to effect their safety and happiness. Prudence, indeed, will dictate that governments long established, should not be changed for light and transient causes; and accordingly all experience hath shown that mankind are more disposed to suffer, while evils are sufferable, than to right themselves by abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed. But when a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same object, evinces a design to reduce them under absolute despotism, it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off such government, and to provide new guards for their future security. Such has been the patient sufferance of these Colonies, and such is now the necessity which constrains them to alter their former systems of government. The history of the present King of Great Britain is a history of repeated injuries and usurpations, all having in direct object the establishment of an absolute tyranny over these States. To prove this, let facts be submitted to a candid world.

He has refused his assent to laws, the most wholesome and necessary for the public good.

He has forbidden his governors to pass laws of immediate and pressing importance, unless suspended in their operation till his assent should be obtained; and when so suspended, he has utterly neglected to attend to them.

He has refused to pass other laws for the accommodation of large districts of people, unless those people should relinquish the right of representation in the legislature, a right inestimable to them, and formidable to tyrants only.

He has called together legislative bodies at places unusual, uncomfortable, and distant from the depository of their public records, for the sole purpose of fatiguing them into compliance with his measures.

He has dissolved representative houses repeatedly, for opposing with manly firmness his invasions on the rights of the people.

He has refused for a long time, after such dissolutions, to cause others to be elected, whereby the legislative powers, incapable of annihilation, have returned to the people at large for their exercise; the State remaining, in the meantime, exposed to all the dangers of invasion from without, and convulsions within.

He has endeavored to prevent the population of these States; for that purpose obstructing the laws for naturalization of foreigners; refusing to pass others to encourage their migrations hither, and raising the conditions of new appropriations of lands.

He has obstructed the administration of justice by refusing his assent to laws for establishing judiciary powers.

He has made judges dependent on his will alone, for the tenure of their offices, and the amount and payment of their salaries.

He has erected a multitude of new offices, and sent hither swarms of officers to harass our people, and eat out their substance.

He has kept among us, in times of peace, standing armies, without the consent of our legislatures.

He has affected to render the military independent of and superior to the civil power.

He has combined with others to subject us to a jurisdiction foreign to our constitution and unacknowledged by our laws; giving his assent to their acts of pretended legislation:

For quartering large bodies of armed troops among us:

For protecting them, by a mock trial, from punishment for any murders which they should commit on the inhabitants of these States:

For cutting off our trade with all parts of the world:

For imposing taxes on us without our consent:

For depriving us, in many cases, of the benefits of trial by jury:

For transporting us beyond seas to be tried for pretended offenses:

For abolishing the free system of English laws in a neighboring province establishing therein an arbitrary government, and enlarging its boundaries, so as to render it at once an example and fit instrument for introducing the same absolute rule into these colonies:

For taking away our charters, abolishing our most valuable laws, and altering fundamentally the forms of our governments:

For suspending our own legislatures, and declaring themselves invested with power to legislate for us in all cases whatsoever.

He has abdicated government here, by declaring us out of his protection, and waging war against us.

He has plundered our seas, ravaged our coasts, burnt our towns, and destroyed the lives of our people.

He is, at this time, transporting large armies of foreign mercenaries to complete the works of death, desolation, and tyranny, already begun, with circumstances of cruelty and perfidy, scarcely paralleled in the most barbarous ages, and totally unworthy the head of a civilized nation.

He has constrained our fellow citizens, taken captive on the high seas, to bear arms against their country, to become the executioners of their friends and brethren, or to fall themselves by their hands.

He has excited domestic insurrections amongst us, and has endeavored to bring on the inhabitants of our frontiers, the merciless Indian savages, whose known rule of warfare is an undistinguished destruction of all ages, sexes, and conditions.

In every stage of these oppressions we have petitioned for redress in the most humble terms: our repeated petitions have been answered only by repeated injury. A prince whose character is thus marked by every act which may define a tyrant, is unfit to be the ruler of a free people.

Nor have we been wanting in attentions to our British brethren. We have warned them, from time to time, of attempts by their legislature to extend an unwarrantable jurisdiction over us. We have reminded them of the circumstances of our emigration and settlement here. We have appealed to their native justice and magnanimity, and we have conjured them by the ties of our common kindred to disavow these usurpations, which would inevitably interrupt our connections and correspondence. They too have been deaf to the voice of justice and of consanguinity. We must, therefore, acquiesce in the necessity which denounces our separation, and hold them, as we hold the rest of mankind, enemies in war, in peace friends.

We, therefore, the Representatives of the United States of America, in General Congress assembled, appealing to the Supreme Judge of the world for the rectitude of our intentions, do in the name, and by authority of the good people of these Colonies, solemnly publish and declare, That these United Colonies, are, and of right ought to be, free and independent States; that they are absolved from all allegiance to the British crown, and that all political connexion between them and the State of Great Britain, is, and ought to be, totally dissolved; and that as free and independent States, they have full power to levy war, conclude peace, contract alliances, establish commerce, and to do all other acts and things which independent States may of right do. And for the support of this declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence we mutually pledge to each other our lives, our fortunes, and our sacred honour.

The United States Constitution is the oldest federal constitution in existence. It was so well framed that it has served as the basis for this government for more than two centuries. Only once has it been seriously endangered, this being during the Civil War. Many of its principles have been adopted by other countries.

The Constitution was the outgrowth of a convention of delegates from the different states that met in Philadelphia in May, 1787, Rhode Island not being represented. George Washington presided over the convention, which lasted from May to September.

The Constitution was then submitted to the then existing states for ratification, with a provision that it should become effective when ratified by nine states. New Hampshire was the ninth state to ratify, June 21, 1788, and the Constitution went into effect in 1789.

The states ratified the Constitution in the following order: Delaware, Dec. 7; Pennsylvania, Dec 12, and New Jersey, Dec. 18, 1787; Georgia, Jan 2; Connecticut, Jan 9; Massachusetts, Feb. 6; Maryland, Apr. 28; South Carolina, May 23; New Hampshire, June 21; Virginia, June 26, and New York, July 26, 1788; North Carolina, Nov. 21, 1789, and Rhode Island, May 29, 1790.

CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

The Constitution originally consisted of a Preamble and seven Articles, and in that form was completed and signed at a convention of the States, Sept. 17, 1787. The Government under the Constitution was declared in effect on the first Wednesday in March, 1789.

ARTICLE I

Section 1. Legislative powers; in whom vested.

CONSTITUTION OF NEW HAMPSHIRE

PART FIRST

BILL OF RIGHTS

Article 1. [Equality of Men; Origin and Object of Government.] All men are born equally free and independent; therefore, all government of right originates from the people, is founded in consent, and instituted for the general good.

June 2, 1784*

[Art.] 2. [Natural Rights.] All men have certain natural, essential, and inherent rights—among which are, the enjoying and defending life and liberty; acquiring, possessing, and protecting, property; and, in a word, of seeking and obtaining happiness. Equality of rights under the law shall not be denied or abridged by this state on account of race, creed, color, sex or national origin.

June 2, 1784*

Amended 1974 adding sentence to prohibit discrimination.

[Art.] 2-a. [The Bearing of Arms.]. All persons have the right to keep and bear arms in defense of themselves, their families, their property and the state.

December 1, 1982

[Art.] 3. [Society, its Organization and Purposes.] When men enter into a state of society, they surrender up some of their natural rights to that society, in order to ensure the protection of others; and, without such an equivalent, the surrender is void.

June 2, 1784

[Art.] 4. [Rights of Conscience Unalienable.] Among the natural rights, some are, in their very nature unalienable, because no equivalent can be given or received for them. Of this kind are the Rights of Conscience.

June 2, 1784

[Art.] 5. [Religious Freedom Recognized.] Every individual has a natural and unalienable right to worship God according to the dictates of his own conscience, and reason; and no subject shall be hurt, molested, or restrained, in his person, liberty, or estate, for worshipping God in the manner and season most agreeable to the dictates of his own conscience; or for his religious profession, sentiments, or persuasion; provided he doth not disturb the public peace or disturb others in their religious worship.

June 2, 1784

[Art.] 6. [Morality and Piety.] As morality and piety, rightly grounded on high principles, will give the best and greatest security to government, and will lay, in the hearts of men, the strongest obligations to due subjection; and as the knowledge of these is most likely to be propagated through a society, therefore, the several parishes, bodies corporate, or religious societies shall at all times have the right of electing their own teachers, and of contracting with them for their support or maintenance, or both. But no person shall ever be compelled to pay towards the support of the schools of any sect or denomination. And every person, denomination or sect shall be equally under the protection of the law; and no subordination of any one sect, denomination or persuasion to another shall ever be established.

June 2, 1784

Amended 1968 to remove obsolete sectarian references.

[Art.] 7. [State Sovereignty.] The people of this state have the sole and exclusive right of governing themselves as a free, sovereign, and independent state; and do, and forever here-after shall, exercise and enjoy every power, jurisdiction, and right, pertaining thereto, which is not, or may not hereafter be, by them expressly delegated to the United States of America in congress assembled.

June 2, 1784

[Art.] 8. [Accountability of Magistrates and Officers; Public's Right to Know.] All power residing originally in, and being derived from, the people, all the magistrates and officers of government are their substitutes and agents, and at all times accountable to them. Government, therefore, should be open, accessible, accountable and responsive. To that end, the public's right of access to governmental proceedings and records shall not be unreasonably restricted.

June 2, 1784

Amended 1976 by providing right of access to governmental proceedings and records.

[Art.] 9. [No Hereditary Office or Place.] No office or place, whatsoever, in government, shall be hereditary—the abilities and integrity requisite in all, not being transmissible to posterity or relations.

June 2, 1784

[Art.] 10. [Right of Revolution.] Government being instituted for the common benefit, protection, and security, of the whole community, and not for the private interest or emolument of any one man, family, or class of men; therefore, whenever the ends of government are perverted, and public liberty manifestly endangered, and all other means of redress are ineffectual, the people may, and of right ought to reform the old, or establish a new government. The doctrine of nonresistance against arbitrary power, and oppression, is absurd, slavish, and destructive of the good and happiness of mankind.

June 2, 1784

[Art.] 11. [Elections and Elective Franchises.] All elections are to be free, and every inhabitant of the state of 18 years of age and upwards shall have an equal right to vote in any election. Every person shall be considered an inhabitant for the purposes of voting in the town, ward, or unincorporated place where he has his domicile. No person shall have the right to vote under the constitution of this state who has been convicted of treason, bribery or any willful violation of the election laws of this state or of the United States; but the supreme court may, on notice to the attorney general, restore the privilege to vote to any person who may have forfeited it by conviction of such offenses. The general court shall provide by law for voting by qualified voters who at the time of the biennial or state elections, or of the primary elections therefor, or of city elections, or of town elections by official ballot, are absent from the city or town of which they are inhabitants, or who by reason of physical disability are unable to vote in person, in the choice of any officer or officers to be elected or upon any question submitted at such election. Voting registration and polling places shall be easily accessible to all persons including disabled and elderly persons who are otherwise qualified to vote in the choice of any officer or officers to be elected or upon any question submitted at such election. The right to vote shall not be denied to any person because of the non-payment of any tax. Every inhabitant of the state, having the proper qualifications, has equal right to be elected into office.

June 2, 1784

Amended 1903 to provide that in order to vote or be eligible for office a person must be able to read the English language and to write.

Amended 1912 to prohibit those convicted of treason, bribery or willful violation of the election laws from voting or holding elective office.

Amended 1942 to provide for absentee voting in general elections.

[Right of Accused.] No subject shall be held to answer for any crime, or offense, until the same is fully and plainly, substantially and formally, described to him; or be compelled to accuse or furnish evidence against himself. Every subject shall have a right to produce all proofs that may be favorable to himself; to meet the witnesses against him face to face, and to be fully heard in his defense, by himself, and counsel. [Art.] 18. [Penalties to be Proportioned to Offenses; True Design of Punishment.] All penalties ought to be proportioned to the nature of the offense. No wise legislature will affix the same punishment to the crimes of theft, forgery, and the like, which they do to those of murder and treason. Where the same undistinguishing severity is exerted against all offenses, the people are led to forget the real distinction in the crimes themselves, and to commit the most flagrant with as little compunction as they do the lightest offenses. For the same reason a multitude of sanguinary laws is both impolitic and unjust. The true design of all punishments being to reform, not to exterminate mankind.

It is the right of every citizen to be tried by judges as impartial as the lot of humanity will admit. It is therefore not only the best policy, but for the security of the rights of the people, that the judges of the supreme judicial court should hold their offices so long as they behave well; subject, however, to such limitations, on account of age, as may be provided by the constitution of the state; and that they should have honorable salaries, ascertained and established by standing laws.

EXECUTIVE COUNCILORS

Article 60 of the second part of the constitution provides for an executive council of five members to advise and act with the governor. Before the constitution there was a council both under the temporary constitution of the Revolution and under the provincial government. Since 1913 councilors have been elected by plurality vote to represent population but previously to that they were elected by majority vote to represent property. In the colonial days councilors were appointed.

The following is a list of all the councilors since 1900 giving the name and address of each and the years they served.

THE SENATE

The senate began under the constitution and first met in 1784. There were at first twelve senators who represented the five counties that then existed, five senators from Rockingham county, two from Strafford, two from Hillsborough, two from Cheshire, and one from Grafton. In 1793 senatorial districts were created to take the place of county representation and each district elected one senator. The elections during the early years took place in March and the legislature met in June annually.

The senatorial districting of 1793 was changed over in 1803 and several times subsequently. In 1878 the senate was doubled in size. In 1915 the senators were elected by plurality instead of majority vote. In previous Manuals, Volumes 55, 56, 57 and 58 a list of the senators from the beginning through 1948 are listed, showing the name and residence of each member, arranged in the order of districts, when the districts were created, and previous to that year, in the order of counties.

Following is a listing of the senators from 1949 to current, showing the name and address of each member.

MEMBERS OF THE UNITED STATES HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES FROM NEW HAMPSHIRE

Under the constitutional apportionment which provided for a house of representatives in congress, New Hampshire was allotted three seats. The national census of 1790 (first census) increased this to four, the second census of 1800 to five and the third census of 1810 to six seats. The census of 1830 reduced it to five, that of 1840 to four and that of 1850 to three. The census of 1870 reduced it to two, but the seat taken away was restored until the next census of 1880; since then the state has had two representatives.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT QUESTIONS

Following are the questions submitted to the qualified voters of New Hampshire on November 7, 2006, together with the vote on the questions:

(Questions Proposed by the 2006 General Court)

Question No. 1. "Are you in favor of amending the first part of the constitution by inserting a new article 12-a to provide that private property can only be taken as follows:

[Art.] 12-a [Power to Take Property Limited.] No part of a person's property shall be taken by eminent domain and transferred, directly or indirectly, to another person if the taking is for the purpose of private development or other private use of the property."

Yes 316,005

No 52,893

Question No. 2. "Are you in favor of amending the second part of the Constitution by amending article 11 to read as follows:

[Art.] 11. [Small Towns; Representative by Districts.] When the population of any town or ward, according to the last federal census, is within a reasonable deviation from the ideal population for one or more representative seats the town or ward shall have its own district of one or more representative seats. The apportionment shall not deny any other town or ward membership in one non-flotarial representative district. When any town, ward, or unincorporated place has fewer than the number of inhabitants necessary to entitle it to one representative, the legislature shall form those towns, wards, or unincorporated places into representative districts which contain a sufficient number of inhabitants to entitle each district so formed to one or more representatives for the entire district. In forming the district, the boundaries of towns, wards, and unincorporated places shall be preserved and contiguous. The excess number of inhabitants of a district may be added to the excess number of inhabitants of other districts to form at-large or flotarial districts conforming to acceptable deviations. The legislature shall form the representative districts at the regular session following every decennial federal census."

Yes 240,767

RECOUNTS AFTER THE GENERAL ELECTION

Fifteen requests for recounts were received after the general election—all for the Office of State Representative. One recount resulted in a change of winners—Merrimack County District 9. The recount conducted in Hillsborough District 3 resulted in a tie. The tie was resolved by the General Court when they met on December 6, 2006—Organization Day.

The recounts requested in Carroll County District 3, Merrimack County District 2 and Merrimack County District 5 were called off before they were completed. There were no changes in any of the other recounts.

The recounts of Hillsborough County District 17 and Rockingham County District 4 were appealed to the Ballot Law Commission.

Below, in the first column are the figures as officially returned to the Secretary of State. The second column contains the recount figures, and the third column contains the figures after appeals to the Ballot Law Commission. Asterisks designate the person elected.
